MEET THE WLC EMCEE
ASHLEY KOHL BASSETT

Born and raised in South Hadley, Ashley Kohl Bassett is a graduate of the Pioneer Valley Performing Arts High School and has dedicated the majority of her life to the art of dance. Her professional journey includes two years of intensive dance study in New York City, during which she also served as a character performer for Disney at their flagship World of Disney store.

Ashley's six-year tenure as the co-host and associate producer of WWLP-22News' weekday lifestyle program, Mass Appeal, provided a pivotal platform for her to discover her true purpose: bringing joy to people of all ages and abilities through dance. Today, she brings that mission to life as the Owner and Creative Director of Ohana School of Performing Arts and the owner of Ohana Clubhouse, both located in Chicopee, MA.

A recognized leader in her community, Ashley was named one of Western Mass Women's Magazine's "Top 25 Women to Watch" and "Top Woman in Television" in 2012. She was also honored as one of Business West's "40 Under 40" in 2018 and was most recently named "Citizen of the Year" by the Chicopee Chamber of Commerce in 2023.

Her commitment to service led her to found One Ohana, Inc., a registered 501(c)(3) non-profit organization dedicated to supporting local dancers and fostering their passion for the arts. Above all, Ashley finds her greatest happiness with her husband, Wade, and her two teenagers, Summer and Brody.

ASHLEY'S ULTIMATE GOAL REMAINS CONSTANT:
To make a positive impact and contribute to the happiness of others.

WELCOME!

Welcome to the 29th Annual Women's Leadership Conference!

Your presence here reflects a meaningful commitment to your own leadership and to the organizations and communities you serve. We know what it takes to step away and invest this kind of time, and we've designed this day with that in mind - bringing together perspectives, ideas, and connections that will challenge your thinking, strengthen your approach, and support the work you lead every day.

Our 2026 theme, IMPACT, challenges us to think differently about the role we play in our professional lives and in the lives of those around us. It's not just about what we aspire to do, but about the many ways we already contribute, influence, and lead. Today is an opportunity to step back, assess where you are making an impact, and identify where you can drive it further.

We are thrilled to welcome Gayle King as our featured keynote speaker. Over the course of a remarkable career, Gayle has built a reputation for asking the questions that matter and navigating complex, high-stakes conversations with clarity, credibility, and authenticity. Many in our region may remember her from her years in Hartford, just down the road, making her presence here today all the more meaningful. From those early days to her role as co-host of CBS Mornings, she has remained a trusted and influential voice in journalism. Her perspective on career longevity, leadership, and the evolving media landscape will be a defining moment of the day.

We are also excited to welcome Juliet Funt, who will open the morning by challenging how we think about productivity and performance, cutting through the constant noise of modern work with a clear, disciplined approach that helps leaders reclaim their time, refocus their energy, and prioritize what truly drives results. At midday, Michelle Poler will take the stage with her dynamic, high-energy style, sharing a bold and deeply personal perspective on facing fear head-on and equipping you to break out of your comfort zone, take meaningful risks, and step into new levels of growth and possibility.

This conference would not be possible without the strong support of our 55 sponsors. A special acknowledgement to our Impact level sponsors, Aramark and Zasco Productions, and our Platinum sponsors, PeoplesBank, ISO New England, and The Republican, for their partnership and leadership. We also want to recognize PeoplesBank for sponsoring the Networking Lounge and serving as our Non-Profit Spotlight Sponsor, and MassMutual, a Silver Sponsor, for bringing more than 300 attendees to this year's conference!

We also extend our appreciation to the teams behind the scenes who make this day possible, and to President Sandra Doran and the Bay Path University leadership team for their continued support and vision.

As you move through the day, we encourage you to be intentional - engage in conversations, challenge your thinking, and build connections that extend beyond today. Take advantage of the opportunity to learn from one another and to strengthen the relationships that drive your work forward. Be sure to visit our exhibitors, vendors, and small business partners, whose innovation and entrepreneurial spirit are an important part of this experience.

Thank you for being here and for the leadership you bring to your organizations and communities.

Together, let's make an IMPACT!

A NOTE FROM BAY PATH UNIVERSITY

SANDRA J. DORAN, J.D.
PRESIDENT, BAY PATH UNIVERSITY

GREETINGS!

It is a joy to welcome you to Bay Path University's 29th Annual Women's Leadership Conference. Each year, we thoughtfully bring this day to life with a singular purpose: to convene our business community in a way that inspires, challenges, and strengthens one another. This year, we gather around a powerful and timely theme: IMPACT.

WLC: Impact is both an invitation and a call to action. It asks you to recognize the influence you already hold, and to use it with intention. Today's conference experience is designed with that goal in mind. Throughout today, we hope you shift from asking, "Can I make a difference?" to confidently knowing, "I already am," and to consider how you can extend that impact even further.

You will hear candid stories and gain practical, actionable strategies from leaders across industries. You will engage in breakout sessions that challenge your thinking and expand your perspective. And you will connect with organizations and businesses that reflect the innovation and vibrancy of our region. Each element of the day is intended to help you translate insight into action.

Whether you are early in your career or leading at the highest levels, impact is not defined by title; it is defined by how you show up, how you make decisions, and how you create momentum for others. This conference is an opportunity to sharpen that impact within your organization, across your industry, and in the communities you serve. In 2026, we challenge you to be intentional about the role you play in advancing your work and your world.

The Women's Leadership Conference reflects Bay Path University's commitment to career-focused learning and to developing leaders who drive meaningful change. There is a distinct energy within this Western, MA community, one grounded in purpose, execution, and the belief that leadership carries both responsibility and opportunity. We are proud to bring together individuals who do not wait for influence but act on it.

Thank you for being part of this day and for the leadership you bring to your organizations and communities. Your impact matters - now more than ever.

In the spirit that guides this great conference and Bay Path University, Carpe Diem!

THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY WOMEN BUSINESS LEADERS

The criteria for nomination to this virtual Hall of Fame were developed through a class project in spring 2004. Bay Path business students reached out via email to senior female executives at Fortune 500 companies, asking for their perspectives on what defines a great leader. After analyzing the responses, seven key characteristics consistently emerged. These qualities, listed below, now serve as the foundation for nominations to Bay Path's Twenty-First Century Women Business Leaders Hall of Fame.

BREAKOUT SESSION B

FOCUS-FORWARD LEADERSHIP
Cut Through the Distraction and Move Forward with Purpose

Leaders are managing unprecedented levels of change, pressure, and distraction. Many feel pulled in too many directions, reacting to what's urgent instead of focusing on what's important. Focus-Forward Leadership helps them step back, clarify their "why," and decide where their energy and attention need to go right now.

Using Sheree's FOCUS Method, participants will leave with a personalized leadership clarity statement and a concrete step to move forward with confidence.

ABOUT SHEREE CAIN-JONES

Sheree Cain-Jones, widely known as Coach Sheree, is a women's advisor and relationship coach who helps high-functioning women set boundaries so they can reclaim their time, energy, and money—and turn their vision into action.

Born into poverty in a home marked by addiction and abuse, Sheree became a teen mom and high school dropout before rewriting her own story. She returned to school as an adult, earned a nursing degree and a master's in project management, and built a career helping women rise above limitations.

Today, she teaches the strategies that helped her become a powerful relationship coach. A dynamic speaker and former TEDx coach, she guides women across the country toward clarity and confidence.

As the creator of The P's of Communicating with Presence and The Power School, Sheree equips women to identify their life's purpose, communicate boundaries with confidence, and align their relationships with their goals.

Rather than offering hype-driven motivation, Sheree provides practical frameworks women can implement immediately.

Her clients leave with tools, confidence, and actionable steps to turn pain into purpose, vision into movement, and words into power.

Featured on Stagetime with Darren LaCroix, EquipHer Conference, California Central Women's Conference, UNLV, Nevada State University, and more, Sheree continues to inspire women to lead with presence, purpose, and poise.

BREAKOUT SESSION D

AI AS THE NEW CHIEF OF STAFF
How Leaders Reclaim Time, Focus, and Power in an AI-Driven World

What if you had a chief of staff who never slept, never forgot, and could process more information in a minute than most teams do in a week?

Artificial intelligence is no longer a future concept or a technical add-on. It is becoming a new layer of leadership support, reshaping how decisions are made and how leaders spend their time. Leaders who learn to work with AI as a strategic partner will not just move faster, they will think more clearly and protect their attention and energy.

In this forward-looking and practical session, Tamilla Triantoro reframes AI not as a tool, but as a modern chief of staff for today's leaders. Drawing on her research on human-AI collaboration and real-world leadership examples, she shows how AI can absorb much of the invisible work that drains leaders, including planning, coordination, information triage, and first-draft thinking. The result is not less human leadership, but more of it.

This session focuses on designing a smarter way of working in a world where intelligence is no longer scarce. Participants will leave with a clearer sense of what to delegate to AI and how to use this shift to reclaim time and focus on things that matter.

ABOUT TAMILLA TRIANTORO

Dr. Tamilla Triantoro is an Associate Professor in the School of Business at Quinnipiac University. She researches artificial intelligence, human-AI collaboration, and the future of work, focusing on how AI changes leadership, decision quality, and employee well-being.

Her work has been featured in BBC, Forbes, Fast Company and included in Springer Nature volumes. She is the co-author of Converging Minds: The Creative Potential of Collaborative AI.

Dr. Triantoro serves on the Advisory Board of the European University Alliance EUonAir, the Scientific Board of the Human+AI Institute by CampusAI, and is a council member of the Human-Machine Interaction Research Center.

She speaks internationally on practical frameworks that help leaders deploy AI responsibly and create business value.

An avid traveler, she has spoken about technology on six continents and visited more than 110 countries.
