

Education Degrees at The American Women's College

Associate's of Science or Bachelor of Arts, Early Childhood Leadership

Bachelor of Arts, Early
Childhood Education

Bachelor of Arts, Elementary
Education

Bachelor of Arts, Education
Studies

As a student, you will:

- Learn the psychology of early childhood development—behavior, personality, and cognitive growth
- Study current methods and approaches to teaching, including planning, classroom management techniques and the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks
- Be prepared to work with special needs children, helping them integrate into a learning setting
- Receive MTEL Preparation support
- Become prepared to work in community-based programs, classroom environments, or daycare settings, supporting other educators in positively impacting the lives of children.

Program Learning Outcomes are aligned with the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE) Professional Standards for Teachers and the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC) standards.

Program meets education requirements for the Massachusetts Department of Early Education and Care (EEC) Lead Teacher and Director certifications.

*Certifications are issued by the Department of EEC, not Bay Path.

For more information about The American Women's College, please visit www.baypath.edu/tawc