PASS THE TORCH:

The American Women's College is thrilled to be partnering with the Pass the Torch Foundation to pilot their Project Grow mentoring program with 25 of our students. Participants will be matched with a professional mentor this fall and will have the option to be matched with a second mentor in the spring. They will also participate in online trainings on networking, mentoring, and other career/professional skills.

Pass the Torch is currently looking for volunteer mentors from the Bay Path community to participate in the program. Time commitments are fairly small -- a 1-hour phone call with your mentee each month -- and you will be provided with training and resources. If you like the idea of working one-on-one with women college students to help them achieve their professional goals, this opportunity may be for you! For more information about becoming a volunteer mentor for Pass the Torch, please contact Gretchen Heaton, Director of Career Development and PLA at TAWC, at gheaton@baypath.edu or 413-565-1573.
