JUICE is a new learning platform and library of modular, competency-based, customizable academic skill-building resources. JUICE reimagines developmental education as personalized “just-in-time, contextualized, and empowering” skill-building for all college students, with a clear focus on supporting under-prepared students. JUICE modules present skills in friendly, real world contexts and provide a choice of engaging ways to review and practice. The JUICE platform supports advanced learning data analytics and research.

Tutor.com - https://www.tutor.com/higher-education
Provide personalized support to students through 24/7 online tutoring, and gain access to reporting tools which allow administrators and instructors to identify student knowledge gaps.

Civitas Learning - https://www.civitaslearning.com/
We partner with universities and colleges dedicated to helping more students learn well and finish strong. We provide tools and services for educators that bring together and make the most of their diverse and disconnected data streams; personalize information and support for their students; and deepen understanding of the impact of their student-success initiatives.
